Choose how you want to log in:
- In your own name
- In the name of a company

Why this choice?
You can access the government online as a member of one of these target groups:
• in own name (citizen)
• in the name of a company (responsible person in a company)
Each target group offers you different options and rights as a user.

Note:
It is, however, not possible to log in for two different target groups in the same internet browser. In the event that you wish to change target group, you will be asked to close all applications to which you are logged in in your current target group. If you do not do this, you cannot access an application in another target group.
