

Round table questions:

- What impact will the high-accuracy services, authentication and encryption features Galileo have and what they will bring to land surveyors in Europe?
- Galileo has a public regulated service what is its feasibility to the land surveying community and related authorities?
- What is the impact of new technology on user demand?
- Does your current business model equip your organisation for the future?
- How easily can your business model change given the political/governmental context in which you operate?
- Do we know where NMCAs are headed, what our future role will be?
- What innovative business models do we envisage?
- What can EuroGeographics do to help NMCAs think this through?
- Is your licensing adaptable and flexible for the internet age?
- What is the relationship between licensing models and your sustainability?
- What does sustainability mean to you?
- Where can NMCAs seize new opportunity?

